RE: OUR CLIENT: CHUN LANSING, EXECUTRIX OF LANSING ESTATE
YOUR EMPLOYEE: ANDREW LANSING
DATE OF INCIDENT: 12/25/2024

Dear Director Chambers-Smith and Warden Cool,

My office represents Chun Lansing who is the widow of the late Andrew Lansing, as well as the named executrix in Mr. Lansing's Last Will and Testament. This letter is intended to inform you that my firm has been retained to assist with Mr. Lansing's Estate as well as to pursue any and all claims for Mr. Lansing's personal injuries and wrongful death arising from an incident that occurred on December 25, 2024 ("Incident"). As such, please have no further contact with my client or my client's family, and please direct all communication and correspondence directly to my attention.

This letter is also intended to formally demand the preservation of certain evidence related to Mr. Lansing's injuries and death and the circumstances surrounding the same. A failure to preserve this information may result in a claim for spoliation of evidence. The Ohio Supreme Court has set forth the elements of a claim for "spoliation of evidence and/or tortious interference with prospective civil litigation" as follows: "(1) pending or probable litigation involving the plaintiff, (2) knowledge on the part of defendant that litigation exists or is probable, (3) willful destruction of evidence by defendant designed to disrupt the plaintiff's case, (4) disruption of the plaintiff's case, and (5) damages proximately caused by the defendant's acts." Smith v. Howard Johnson Co., Inc., 67 Ohio St.3d 28 (1993).

Although spoliation constitutes a separate cause of action, an aggrieved party is not required to seek redress solely by instituting this type of claim. Rather, a court can impose sanctions on the spoliator. Such sanctions include permitting the jury to infer that such evidence would have been unfavorable to the spoliator. Keen v. Hardin Memorial Hospital, 3rd

Dist., Nos. 03-LW-4989, 2003-Ohio-6707 ¶ 10 citing Banks v. Canton Hardware Co., 156 Ohio St. 453 (1952), or creating a rebuttable presumption of negligence, Signs v. Ohio Dept. of Rehab. & Corr., 10th Dist. No. 94 API05-628 (Nov. 22, 1994).

If you fail to properly secure and preserve these important pieces of evidence, it may give rise to the legal presumption that the evidence would have been harmful to your side of the case. In addition, if you fail to preserve and maintain this evidence, we may seek any sanctions available under the law.

The destruction, alteration, or loss of any of the items requested below may be considered a spoliation of evidence under Ohio law. Generally, we are requesting that you preserve all video recordings, audio/radio transmissions, and surveillance footage for the entire premises of the Ross Correctional Institution ("RCI") on December 25, 2024 (the "Incident Date"); all incident reports, accident reports, or other documentation regarding the Incident; all incident reports, accident reports, or other documentation filled out by any inmate, any employee, any contractor, any other affiliated entity, or any of their employees, agents, officers, directors, or managers, regarding the Incident; all policies and procedures in effect at RCI on the Incident Date; all documentation relative to the maintenance of the structure and its equipment where Andrew Lansing was stationed, as well as the same for the on-person equipment on Andrew Lansing's person, on the Incident Date; and any other documentation relative to the Incident.

More specifically, we request that the following evidence be maintained and preserved, and not be destroyed, modified, altered, repaired, or changed in any manner, and further that you immediately put any third party vendor that has or controls this information, material, or documentation, on notice to maintain and preserve it without change:

1. The entire inmate file for any incarcerated person involved, in any way, with the Incident, but specifically to include the inmate file for Rashawn Cannon (Inmate No. A818917).
2. Any reports, memos, notes, logs or other documents evidencing complaints about inmate Rashawn Cannon at any time.

4. All documentation, information, audio recordings, video recordings, or any other evidence related to Case Number RCI-24-003209, which said incident took place on or about April 1, 2024.
5. A listing of all RCI staff working on the Incident Date, to include where each was stationed and a listing of all logs of breaks, movements, or location data for each such staff member on the Incident Date.

6. All work schedules for RCI for the Incident Date.

71. All records demonstrating the names and total number of employees who worked at Ross Correctional Institution on December 25, 2024 and the respective time period(s) that each employee worked.
72. Any and all records in your possession pertaining to, involving or mentioning Rashawn Cannon (DOB 02/10/1997) that are not specifically requested elsewhere herein.

Understanding that some of the records I am requesting may be more readily available than others, I would prefer to receive separate, rolling responses, as I would prefer to receive the records as soon as they are available rather than wait for a single response. Additionally, I would prefer to receive the requested records in a digital format, if possible. If any of the requested records are not available in digital form, please let me know the cost of reproducing them in paper format before proceeding.

Should any part of my request be unclear or overly broad, I am happy to work with you to clarify or narrow it, and should any portion of the requested records be exempt from disclosure under Ohio law, please specify the exemption, as well as an explanation for any redactions, deletions, withholdings, and exclusions, and thereafter provide any non-exempt portions of the records.

I look forward to your response within a reasonable timeframe, as required by law. In the meantime, should you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact me at your earliest convenience.

Sincerely,

/s/ Michael L. Benson

Meggan,

As we discussed, I am routing my public records request through you, and I have attached it to this email for your review. I realize we are requesting a lot of records, but please send your responses as they become available instead of waiting to send one large response.

Also, I was hoping I could schedule a call with you sometime this week if you're available. Tomorrow afternoon I'm completely free, and I'm also free at 11:30 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. on Friday. Please let me know if any of those times work for you.

Thank you in advance, and I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,
